

The university is named after the 19th century cardinal St John Henry Newman who wrote for many of the leading 19th century scholars. The university is built around community, and the belief that education enables students to develop new ways of understanding the world, to help make a positive impact within it. This is delivered through smaller class sizes and an interactive learning style. The Catholic ethos has been retained and our students are from all faiths and none. The university is proud of its diverse, friendly and inclusive environment, where students are welcomed and receive transformational learning opportunities together with support in preparing for employment.

The modern single campus, eight miles southwest of Birmingham city centre has had a recent £20M investment into the campus facilities, building Halls for 200 students, and improving the teaching, learning and social spaces for students. A new law court, a careers and employability hub together with a computer science lab, and accessible student helpdesk are some of the additional facilities and improvements made for our students. The university continues to build its environmental sustainability, already generating 20% 193000kW, of our energy used via on site of solar energy.

We respect and value all contributions, recognising that we are a single community, inspired and united by our shared vision and mission.

We place student learning and welfare at the centre of all we do and we offer a nurturing environment for all students.

We are ethical, honest and humane. In difficult situations, we will seek to work with understanding, kindness and compassion.

We recognise and embrace the power of community and build respectful relationships that help us excel.

A mission of service motivates us, seeking the common good with care and love.

Making appropriate use of technology to support learning and teaching, e.g.,

the post holder will be consulted on any proposed amendments. Therefore, University reserves the right to vary the duties and responsibilities of its employees within the general conditions of employment and related matters. Thus, it must be appreciated that the duties and responsibilities outlined

	developing and delivering NMC and or HCPC programmes. Teaching experience at undergraduate and or post graduate level in a HE setting.

Excellent Interpersonal skills

Current relevant clinical knowledge

Excellent team working, decision making and problem-solving skills

Able to work independently

Able to liaise with and work with practice learning partners

Experience of supporting students

Act as a Person9.96 Tf11

	Commitment to continuing professional development through research and scholarly activity. Commitment to the use of information technology in teaching and research. Willingness to contribute to the development and delivery of clinical skills & simulation. Demonstrate Leadership qualities.
	Have a satisfactory enhanced DBS report. Agree to maintain annual registration with the relevant PSRB e.g., NMC or HCPC and also maintain revalidation requirements of the professional body.	Application/ interview/test		Application/ interview/test the full range of staff benefits available can be found on our website:

<https://www.newman.ac.uk/knowledge-base/staff-benefits/> or please contact the Human Resources Department.

Applications should preferably be submitted by e-mail (as opposed to post) on the University Application Form and should be completed in typescript wherever possible. We only accept a CV as a supplementary part of the application process. Considerable emphasis is placed in the shortlisting process on how candidates demonstrate in their application that they possess the qualifications, experience, skills and qualities which are required for the post.

The University is an Equal Opportunity Employer and we operate the Disability Confident Employer Standard which amongst other things guarantees an interview to disabled applicants who meet the essential criteria of the job specification.

Two referees should be identified who must be people who can comment authoritatively on you as a person and as an employee in relation to the level of the